TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Effective 1st December 1998 we have changed our name from Wembley Rubber Products (M) Sdn Bhd to WRP Asia Pacific Sdn Bhd ("WRP").

The change of name better reflects the dynamic expansion of WRP over the past twelve months, both organically through the development and introduction of new products and the strategic acquisition of companies in South East Asia and North America. As a result WRP now manufactures and supplies a complete range of rubber latex and synthetic gloves for medical, industrial and critical environments. WRP's distribution network covers North and South America, Europe, Asia, Australia, Middle East and Africa with manufacturing bases in Malaysia, Indonesia and China.

The change of name does not and will not change in any way the current business of WRP including its range of products manufactured, its glove and catheter manufacturing processes, its quality assurance programs, its existing certifications and its distribution channels. It also will not in any way whatsoever affect any business transactions previously entered into under the former name of Wembley Rubber Products (M) Sdn Bhd.

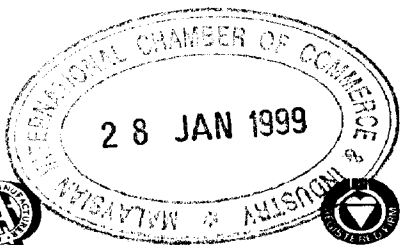

We further confirm that the change of name does not in any way entail any change of management of WRP and the Company remains the same legal entity in Malaysia and under Malaysian Law.
