

Informatics and Information Technology

Karna brings effective technologies and experienced staff to solve information problems.

Our software engineering and data management projects deliver products and services that integrate with and service the programs and stakeholders they are intended for. We integrate our domain knowledge, software development / maintenance / enhancement expertise, project management, and a solid understanding of health program performance to deliver value to the client's mission.

Systems Modernization / Development / Maintenance / Enhancement

We assess each project and evaluate viable alternatives to choose the appropriate architecture and development framework. Our experience includes multiple varieties of agile, waterfall, spiral and hybrid lifecycles. Karna also has experience working within various client's frameworks, such as the HMS EPLC – using tailored templates and following the process to create the artifacts needed for ongoing and Stage Gate Reviews.

Training

Our approach to training incorporates multiple learning style theories to yield measurable results. We plan and employ diverse training delivery methodologies, including distance-learning technologies (e.g. Web-based techniques with global audiences), on-demand sessions (recorded webinars) and more traditional approaches (e.g., on-site training sessions with follow-up coaching).
