As we have come to know, true healing is awakening to all that we are by connecting with and learning to listen to our inner wisdom, then utilizing that wisdom to transform our lives.

The initial objectives of the Founders and Staff of YesHope include:

- Educating individuals who are open to alternative methods of healing to the power of their minds and inner wisdom to heal ourselves and foster a deeper understanding that life is happening for us, not to us;
- Following an initial consultation and agreed plan of action, refer guests of YesHope to integrative healing practitioners as may be appropriate;
- Offer our support to those guests on their healing journey who are committed to the process of empowering and healing themselves; and,
- Make alternative methods of healing more accessible by assisting in covering costs of sessions with healers through fundraising efforts.

Get ready to live your best life!!!
