

- > Recycling Commodities
- > News & Publications
- > Advocacy & Compliance
- > Safety
- > Events & Training
- > Membership
- > About ISRI

Member Services & Benefits

ISRI is the nonprofit trade association that is the "Voice of the Recycling Industry." Based in Washington, D.C., ISRI represents more than 1,100 private and public for-profit companies that process, broker, and industrially consume all scrap commodities. ISRI's associate members include equipment and service providers that market to the scrap recycling industry. Manufacturers and sellers of equipment and services find value in promoting the scrap recycling industry through their membership in ISRI.

The Association assists members through various resources:

Have Questions?

Steven Glover
Senior Director,
Membership
StevenGlover@isri.org
(202) 662-8536

Networking and Education

ISRI provides the forums and opportunities for you to meet your peers from all over the world whether it be at the Association's annual meetings and events, or your local chapter meeting. In addition to that, the Association works to provide educational opportunities to those in the industry at all levels of employment.

Market Research and Reporting

ISRI's commodities department provides current and historical reporting on the industry, including economic impact studies, trade flow data, and other key data that helps members make informed business decisions.

Advocacy & Lobbying

ISRI represents the interests of the scrap recycling industry and our members to the executive branch, Capitol Hill, and state legislatures and regulatory agencies, as well as international bodies

Membership Brochure

ISRI assists member companies by providing a variety of products and services designed to help them run better, safer, cleaner, and more profitable operations. Membership in ISRI offers access to the world's largest network of recycling industry companies and