Residential Moving

For many families, moving to a new home can be overwhelming. The stress of packing, transportation, unloading, and unpacking can add up quickly, and the experience can become less than enjoyable. If you find yourself faced with any size residential move, we'd love to help make your relocation processes easier. Our staff uses clear communication and pre-planning methods that make moving day stress-free. We can also pack your belongings into boxes for you.

Whether you are moving from an apartment or condo, or you're moving from a large residential space, we can accommodate any size move. Our years of experience in the business have allowed us to develop proven systems for any situation that clients are in. To ensure these systems flow smoothly and you are satisfied, we will be in constant communication all through moving day. Our movers are respectful of your space and belongings, and we have a policy of compensating you for any broken items.

To learn more about our residential moving, a simple 10-minute phone call is all it takes to discuss your options and schedule a meeting.

Business and Office Moving

If you are looking for a new location for your small business, On The Go Moving and Storage is ready to accommodate your move in the Issaquah area. We understand that efficiency is key during a business move. You have your own clients, customers, and employees to serve, and time is of the essence when packing and transporting each element of your business.

In many business move situations, office buildings contain staircases or elevators that are difficult to navigate. Our expert team members know exactly how to maneuver in these situations, and they are more than prepared to safely transport your business items to the new space. Don't hesitate to call us or fill out the contact form for more information. We are more than willing to talk about your moving situation and discuss your options and schedule.

Commercial Moving

In addition to office moves, On The Go provides retail or commercial moving services. Once again, we understand the importance of a quick and safe move, so we strive to complete the process in a single day. We offer expert packing services before loading everything into the trucks, and we can arrange to do so on the day of the move or the day before, depending on your preferences and the nature of your business.

For any smaller-sized commercial business looking to move around the Issaquah area, our team here at On The Go is the most accommodating, dependable, and efficient option. Contact us today and we would love to have a conversation about the whole process and answer all the questions you might have.
