FINE TUNE FOCUSES ON THE FINER DETAILS

TO REVEAL HIDDEN COSTS

Your cleanroom uniform program is costing you a lot more than it should.

Here's why: It takes industry expertise to negotiate a truly optimal cleanroom uniform contract. And the implementation of your contract is only half the battle.

Without continuous and vigilant management, your program is bound to negatively impact your bottom line, leaving you exposed to significant up-charges that can affect your program's total cost.

At Fine Tune, we understand all of the intricacies associated with the expense and our clients enjoy the nation's best cleanroom uniform programs.

Do you really know what these areas of your program should cost?

Fine Tune does. Cleanroom uniform programs are full of variable and discretionary costs which can hurt your bottom line.

Loss and ruin charges

Who lost the garment? Was it really ruined? Who is making that decision? What's the right replacement value?

Garment inventories

Do you actually have what the invoice says you have? Are you using what you actually have?

Special size charges

What's an appropriate upcharge for larger sizes...if any?

Buy-back provisions

Is a buy-back really necessary? Are your garments truly unique?

Fine Tune has the vision to put you in control.

Fine Tune has a proven track record and years of experience managing major and national cleanroom programs. Our industry experts will make sure that your cleanroom contracts are best in class. With the help of our proprietary auditing software, we'll guarantee contract compliance and drive down program costs.

Save 20%-50% or more with Fine Tune

Fine Tune's dedicated full-service approach includes initial assessment and benchmarking, strategy setting, sourcing and contract negotiations, ongoing auditing and program optimization.
