OUT OF SCHOOL LEARNING

Our Initiatives

ReSchool is continuously engaging in research and design to co-create solutions with learners and families. As concepts emerge from our research and design efforts, ReSchool launches initiatives to address them.

Learners and their families are leveraging the support and resources of our initiatives right now. To give you an idea of how these initiatives have impacted them, we've told a few of their stories in the Student Experience section.

What We Do

Close opportunity gaps that inhibit access to learning and connectedness.

Acknowledge, validate and make visible learning that happens everywhere.

- ✓ Build learner and family capacity to navigate complex systems.
- ✓ Engage communities to co-create new opportunities for learning.
- ✓ Utilize research to measure impact and inform design.
- ✓ Highlight and accelerate learner-centered ideas and practices.

"We are shifting to self-organising systems, where learning is an emergent phenomenon."
