meet your local butcher

Welcome to your friendly neighborhood butcher, where we can prepare any cut you like to order, from a wide range of different animals, and ship them straight to your door.

When we say humanely treated, we can back it up. We've personally visited the farms, ate with the farmers at their table, pet the animals, asked a million questions, tried the meat ourselves - you name it. When we say free range - our animals have fields and fields to roam in, and when we say well treated - you can see it in the animals face, their coats, and the way they act. When you buy from us, you're buying great meat from people you can trust.
