Education Services Our Expanded Organization

At JDA, we've always committed to bringing our customers the finest in education, seminars, industry analysis and benchmarking services through our Education Services. Our Education Services industry and learning professionals focus on your effectiveness and profitability, working in conjunction with customer input to produce results-oriented materials and services, including:

- Multimodal process and solutions training
- Role-based certification tracks
- Benchmarking surveys and services
- Best practice / business strategy information

JDA's Education Services team is excited to meet your needs on topics that span the entirety of our business. Our customers can expect to see more education and business offerings including e-learning (JDALearn.com), online seminars, benchmark surveys and certification tracks. JDA training is based on our role-based certification tracks. Each track contains sequenced, blended learning events (virtual classroom, face-to-face, e-learning, online exams, etc.) focusing on decisions and processes that help students maximize their effectiveness in a particular role. Education Services training builds learner competencies that drive business improvement. Most tracks include an online exam, and students passing the exam become JDAcertified in that role.
