ICEX groups, or "Accelerators" are a fast, efficient way to gain perspective gleaned from actual experience, and safely vet ideas with a select group of true peers across multiple industries who know and trust each other. Benefits of Participation include: in-person meetings three times a year; virtual meetings on member initiated topics; direct member-to-member connections to answer specific questions via an online member platform; guest attendance at other community meetings of interest; access to online archive of approved member presentations; discussion summaries; and other shared materials; and in-person, on-site facilitated discussions for an internal team or executives.
