When Gottlieb Daimler and Wilhelm Maybach invented the first combustion powered motorbike in Germany in 1885, they forever changed the world of transportation. That innovation continued in America in 1901 with the Hendee Manufacturing Company, which later became Indian Motorcycles. Another well known name, Harley Davidson entered the market in Milwaukee in 1903. What started out as a novel invention became a passion for many and created a subculture all its own.

Today that subculture remains alive and well all across America. The world of motorcycles is as diverse as the bikers that ride them. There are many different makes and models of motorcycles on the road today, from Buell to Yamaha, choppers to trikes, and they all hold a special place in the hearts of their riders.

On The Spot Mobile Motorcycle Detailing offers the same professional quality results for your motorcycle that you have come to expect from our automotive detailing. We have the specialized tools, an excellent knowledge of motorcycles, and an eye for every detail which come together to transform your daily driver or weekend toy back to its original "Showroom Shine."
