FAQs

What do I do if I forgot my bracket selections?

Look up your selections by entering your email address here.

How does it work?

Uses can earn points as they select predictions for head-to-head battles.

There are two sides (left and right) to a bracket, and each participant goes head to head.

One winner advances to the next round, while the other is eliminated.

Each match winner advances again and again until there is only one winner left.

Each mound. To joints will be awarded for each correct option selected in the bracket. The points will double each round as the number of bracket options is cut in half. This means that each round will be worth the same amount of overall points and gives the later selections a bit more weight for getting them correct.

I don't live in the US. Can I win?
The contest is open to residents of the United States only. Please see the Official Rules for complete details.

When are the winners announced?

March 16th, 2018

How are the winners selected?

The top two and bottom two brackets are eligible to win.

What if there is a tie? In the event of a tie, with four (4) or fewer people tied for either position; 'top bracket winners' or 'bottom bracket winners', four (4) for each, meaning eight (8) in total, AutoPets will award the additional four (4) prizes.

In the event of a tie with more than 'eight (3) prize winners' in total for the tie, AutoPets will randomly draw from the total pool of winners and award the eight (3) winners each a prize.

How will I know if I won?
Winners will be notified via email and their names (first name and last initial) will be featured on Litter-Robot social media accounts and MarchMeowness.com

Do I need to enter every day?
