Question: If I wanted to use this as a temporary blanket in my home would it keep me warm?
Answer: It would if you enjoy wrapping yourself in crinkly plastic mylar. It's really only intended for an outdoor emergency that requires a waterproof solution. With that said it would work, but would hardly be a substitute for a real wool or fleece blanket.

Question: If I were to put it over a window, would it block out the light?
Answer: I found doubling the material, either fold in half or use 2 to cover a window is most effective. A single one is semi opaque, so 2 is needed. I've also cut these to fit a window and sprayed the window lightly with water to make it stick works as a decent film for windows in the house. Just be very careful squeezeing t... see more

Question: Would this be good for protecting electronics against heat and humidity?
Answer: For short term storage these could work to protect against the elements. They are waterproof and Gold color will reflect sunlight to offer some protection against heat. For long term protection, however, even these types of blankets will not last forever in harsh weather.

Just a MUST have for any individual or household. From the natural disaster you didn't expect, to the camping trip gone wrong, the multitude of various uses these "Blankets" can provide is abundant to say the least. Love that they can be cut, arranged, and utilized to individual needs and scenario. The extra Gold pack says mini but based on the dimensions provided, it would appear it's the same size as the Silver. God Bless & hope you never have to put it to use!

★★★★☆ We all deserve warmth...

September 14, 2018

Color: Woodland Camo | Verified Purchase

The temperature where I live is pretty constant, somewhere between 40°-65°. However, our winters have been getting pretty cold lately, sometimes down to 25° with pouring rain. Unfortunately, we also have a pretty large homeless population. It's not unusual to see someone sleeping on a bench, the ground, under some bushes, etc. There is one woman who sleeps on the same bench pretty much every night wrapped in blankets. She's out there in the open, every day, even in the rain. I drove by her one day on my way to work and she literally had frost on her blanket. Frost, on a human being.

These blankets are cheap enough that I buy them to hand out to houseless people who look like they need to keep warm/dry. They are small enough to be carried in a pocket, have many different uses, and I buy the camouflage ones so they can be used somewhat discretely-I hope that someone can get a better nights sleep because of them.

★★★★★ A life saver.

A must for anyone who cares about safety. We were given a set of the Mylar Thermal Blankets as a gift. I packed them in the car when going on a trip to the northeast. 9 inches of snow, cars stalled and pulling off all over the impassable roadway. We were stranded for 4 hours and it was 30 degrees. Break out the Mylar Blankets. We were WARM, turned the engine off to save gas, and drank a thermos of coffee. Without the blankets we would have been in big trouble. Everyone should have these for that emergency that we think won't affect us. So many uses, the owner of the company graciously emails you with other tips on the uses of the mylar blanket. Love the price, quality and company.

★★★★★ Great quality and value

I purchased these recently and I absolutely can't say enough about the quality that you're getting. I bought these for some EDC kits I'm making for my wife and I and they seem just light years better than your standard mylar emergency blanket you pick up for cheap. Not only that, but you receive 4 of these little bad boys along with the bonus mini gold blanket which is such a great value. Also, appreciate the company emailing me after I purchased them to make sure I was satisfied. Top notch product, even better customer service. Must buy!

Kept me warm on a cold windy day at my grandson's soccer game. You need a ziplock sandwich bag to put it in when you're finished using it. No way will it go back in its original bag.

★★★★★ An excellent product and real bargain

May 16, 2017

Verified Purchase

Way back in 1967-68, I carried one of the early versions of these mylar blankets (then called a "Space Blanket" after its NASA origin) in a side pocket of my jungle pants in Vietnam. I don't think I ever used it, but I had one. For what they can do, these emergency blankets from Swiss Safe are a true bargain - four green/silver blankets and a bonus gold one (not sure what its specific use is) each individually packaged. I've bought several for my home, my truck, my children and their kids, and some friends too. Two of these (one under and one on top) can keep a person warm in almost any situation. Having a few of these around is a no-brainer.

★★★★★ Customer Service is OUTSTANDING!

September 12, 2017

Verified Purchase

Whilst I have not used the product(s) yet I am reviewing purely because their customer service is top notch.

I have been getting emails since my purchase about tips and suggested uses which I for one appreciate, as my family has never used a blanket like this before.

My purchase was stemmed from the fact my child was recently diagnosed with Cold Urticaria, an allergy to the cold and also cooling sweat. I have to maintain his body temperature at all times, school fire drills etc... I have been very worried about losing power due to any storm with winter approaching, and knew I had to be proactive. I wish I never needed these blankets, but do feel a lot more prepared that I can keep him safer.

I would recommend this company to anyone! I thank you for your email and tips.
