Fan Out's nail nipper is made by skilled craftsmen using traditional blacksmith techniques inherited from the Edo era.

The curved face has thin blades on each side making it easy to cut fine details and hard to reach areas.

Our innovative spring has two settings that adjust the width between the handles. Changing spring settings adjust cutting force and feeling for different size hands. (Japanese Patent No. 5726364)

The handles are originally designed to fit ergonomically in your hand without stress.
Available in two finishes; matte and polished
