Take the time to smell the roses

Why scent?

Your nose knows

The sense of smell has a keen ability to evoke memories and emotions, alter moods and sway behaviours.

Whether your business is a retail space, a hotel lobby, a spa room, a restaurant, or an entertainment venue, scents can make a big difference in how your customers, guests, and patrons perceive and remember their experience.

Fusing the right scent, sight and sound, you will create a highly distinctive, memorable, evocative and irresistible brand experience for your guests.

Why RX Music?

Take your brand experience to the next sensory level

Your RX Music team cares deeply about elevating sensory experiences. While music is at the core of our services, scent plays an important role in complementing the music we curate for your brand. From calming to uplifting, we have a scent for everything and the right setup to make it work. Our scent experts will guide you in choosing the right aroma or combination, as well as a specific diffusing setup to meet your business objectives, fit your physical space, and embody your brand DNA.
