

We Fuel Ambition

ABOUT

Capital & Creativity

At Thermal, we're out to create thriving economies through the marriage of creativity and capital. Economies where ideas are empowered to bring real change to the world. Creating these economies starts by giving founders the fuel they need to get out of the starting gate.

At Thermal, we understand the needs of today's founders because we're founders ourselves. Where other firms fuel businesses, we fuel the people behind them, and the driving force that turns ideas into wildly successful brands.

At Thermal, we fuel ambition.

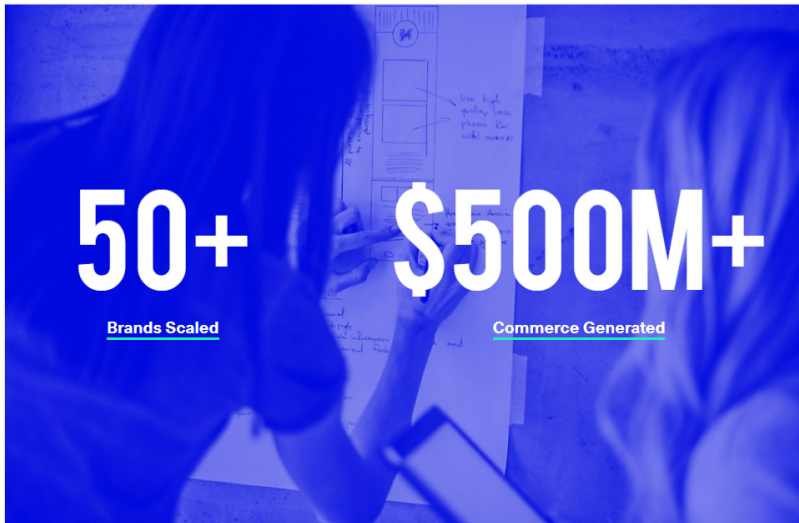

PORTFOLIO

Projects We've Fueled

We co-founded, built and scaled the largest consumer-facing online resource in the addiction treatment industry. Led by Rehabs.com, Recovery Brands (RB) helped millions of visitors change their lives while helping treatment operators grow their businesses. In 2015, we led the successful transaction and acquisition of RB by a publicly-traded healthcare company.

Digital and inbound marketing is in our DNA. For years, we ran a highly-skilled and successful digital marketing agency based in Santa Monica, CA. The strategic leadership and digital marketing innovation born at RankLab are now integral to every Thermal project. In a rare transaction, we scaled and sold the agency to a public healthcare company in 2015.

FOCUS

Venture Investing

We provide venture investment at early and growth stages, when we can add an unfair advantage to projects that excite us. Whether through strategy, positioning or acquisition, we use our considerable experience in digital and growth to create value—lots of it—for customers, investors, and the ecosystem as a whole. These are the most thrilling times for any company, and we love fueling that excitement.

Incubator

Helping founders grow their businesses by way of investment is great. But it's not enough. Ventures need operational expertise if they hope to achieve next-level success. We provide that expertise via incubator services for projects whose needs match our unique skill set. Leveraging our partner network, we provide the right mix of guidance and autonomy to get businesses up to speed and onto bigger things.

Consulting & Advising

We've always believed that you do well by doing

We've always believed that you do well by doing good for others. And we want to see our friends and partners succeed. So we lend our skills by way of consulting or advising, even when we don't have a direct interest in the business. Much of the advising we do is for the companies we have an early role in, while the goal of our consulting work is simply to add value wherever we can.
