CREATING THE FUTURE

In December 2017, SparkCognition hosted its first Time Machine Summit, bringing together creative minds to debate the state and future of AI. World AI leaders in tech, government, business, and research gathered to explore the cutting-edge AI applications, projects, and research that will create the world of the future.

This year, SparkCognition intends to elevate Time Machine even further. Guests of Time Machine 2018 will learn about the future of AI, and find out how SparkCognition and other notable industry leaders are advancing technology and society right here in the heart of central Texas.
