

KATANACRAFT IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

A tradition of craftsmanship and design goes into every Katanacraft vessel.

TRADITION

Katanacraft was created out of Hellgate Jetboat Excursions, a family-owned company that operates commercial jetboat tours on rivers in the United States and has been manufacturing vessels for its fleets since 1959. One of the first jetboat companies in the nation, Hellgate Jetboat Excursions has become an industry leader in boat building for shallow and technical water.

Recognizing the need for an aluminum boat manufacturer specializing in shallow water commercial, military and government vessels, Katanacraft began servicing external customers in 2010 and now creates aluminum vessels for deep and shallow operating environments known for their safety, durability and reliability.

With over a half-century of experience, cutting-edge engineering and technology, superior materials and a strong commitment to safety and excellence, Katanacraft produces the highest-performing vessels small craft

Cutting edge design and construction leaves our boats unmatched in their class

We manufacture state-of-the art vessels for all of your boating wants and needs

From safety to comfort and durability, our boats exceed every expectation
