

Leadership Development

All good leaders require the right resources to stay at the top of their game and effective leadership is key to a successful business. We are dedicated to supporting the growth and development of industry leaders, both seasoned and fresh. Our signature leadership development programs include:

- Management Essentials: MBA Education's Management Essentials is designed to provide current and relevant content to strengthen the skills of both emerging and experienced managers in the mortgage finance industry. During this four-day program, participants with both Commercial/Multifamily and Residential lending backgrounds will experience an engaging mix of lecture, facilitated discussions, large and small group activities, and individual reflection. Participants can expect to share and learn from each other's experience to gain new insights about their own management styles and of those that they manage.

- Future Leaders: This executive leadership development program delivers a comprehensive curriculum for selected managers who have shown leadership interests and abilities. MBA Education's Future Leaders Program is an executive leadership development program that delivers a comprehensive curriculum for selected managers who have shown leadership interests and abilities. Participants enhance their skills through three hands-on sessions geared toward political activism; business analysis and problem solving; and experiential learning through collaboration, networking and peer group interaction.

The program uses cutting-edge tools to enhance your leadership development, including the acclaimed Leadership Practices Inventory 360. In addition, the Future Leaders program includes a day at the innovative Lincoln Leadership Institute at Gettysburg, which focuses on leadership in a stressful and changing environment. Conducted at the site of the Gettysburg battlefield itself, the Institute offers a dramatic and inspiring look at how the lessons of history can guide leaders today.
