StratX<sup>TM</sup>

Making vision real through strategy execution

Too many organizations fail to connect their vision, strategy, action and performance resulting in unrealized vision. One leading cause of poor business performance is a piecemeal, disconnected approach to strategic planning & execution. StratX™ builds execution into visioning and strategy creation from the beginning. StratX™ distills the best theory of leading business authors such as Jim Collins, Patrick Lencioni and Peter Drucker into a harmonized set of practical, real world tools that are installed as a strategic execution system.

StratX™ also incorporates the human element. Participants experience fair process in that those responsible for producing desired results are involved in the creation of the strategy & plan. StratX™ allows disciplined people, to engage in disciplined thought leading to disciplined action, initially at the company-wide level and eventually throughout the entire organization.

StratX Model™

The StratX Model™ is comprised of six interrelated phases that cumulatively build upon each other.

StratX Journey™

We facilitate each session using a Socratic style of questioning believing that the answers for how to run a better business are within your team - our role is simply to draw those answers out and help hold your team accountable for executing the strategy and plan over the long run.
