"I was in search of a steel framed cover for an above ground wastewater treatment plant. Empire Steel was very accommodating in both providing an ideal solution and amiable to the restrictive purchasing rules that I was required to adhere to. We now own two of these structures and they have been in place for approximately one and a half years. We are very pleased with their performance, and low maintenance requirements."

— Mike Scarboro, Civil engineer, California

Welcome to Empire Steel Buildings

Empire Steel Buildings is a factory direct wholesaler of some of the highest quality pre engineered steel building systems. Our corporate headquarters is located in San Diego, California and we have fifteen manufacturing/shipping points for our pre engineered steel buildings located throughout the U.S. Our steel building manufacturing plants are equipped with the most technologically advanced computer tooled machinery in the industry. All of the components for our steel buildings are pre-cut, pre drilled, pre-engineered under one roof. Our in house engineers are certified in all fifty states in virtually every county. Our steel buildings start with standard upgrades including factory welded girt clips, PBR roof panels, salt spray tested zinc capped fasteners and sculptured eave trim.
