Merlin Makes Magic

Software is the Magic of the Twenty First-Century

In the days of Camelot, Merlin conjured magic for King Arthur and his Knights of the Roundtable. While the magic seemed real, it was mostly an artful combination of chemistry and knowhow. It turns out the wizardry of the medieval world wasn't magic at all. It just looked that way.

Software is the magic of the twenty-first century. When Siri gives us turn-by-turn directions, it seems like magic. When Google search quickly finds what we need, it feels like magic. Deep down, we know it isn't magic, just well-written software running over a network. But it might as well be.

AUTOMATED LEGAL COMPLIANCE SOFTWARE

We use advanced open source tools and machine learning algorithms to make "digital magic" for innovative legal professionals. We specialize in designing secure, cloud-based software to help legal teams automate workflow and streamline compliance efforts.

Our systems start with core elements from the Merlin Compliance Platform. These include:

- User rights management;
- Document upload and processing;
- Flexible rules and workflow engine;
- Search and analytics; and
- Review and rules-based workflow.

We can then customize the Merlin Platform to fit most compliance and legal process needs and provision it for speed and redundancy to meet your requirements.

Cloud-based, the system can be tailored to operate 24/7, or set to run during business hours and spin down when not needed—in order to save on operating costs. The application and its underlying data can be stored and managed securely in any of the AWS regions located around the world.

The Merlin Compliance Platform

HOW CAN I USE IT?

The answer is simple. Use our platform for almost everything that involves people, paper and work processes, and particularly when the people are spread out across different offices, organizations and oceans. The only limit is your imagination and ability to recognize that work processes could be improved through automation and the right software application.
