

We're in it together.

The arts connect us as a community through shared experiences, revealing hopes and fears, with laughter and sometimes tears. Cancellations and closures are a stark reminder of our new reality and it's devastating for thousands of artists, hundreds of arts organizations who employ them and all of us in the region.

During this crisis, ArtsWave is accelerating grant payments, expanding no-interest loans to nonprofits and providing emergency grants for arts organizations to stay in business. Your gift to ArtsWave is more important than ever, as we step up together to help over 100 local organizations and projects.

Your gift assures that when this crisis is over, our arts will be here, ready to bring us together and enliven our neighborhoods, schools and concert halls for years to come. Give today.
