

Why do people join?

"It's the amount of knowledge and willingness to share"

✓ Stop struggling, get inspired

The AMC is a lively and respectful community where you can discuss problems and find solutions. Within the forums new threads are started every day on topics from transitioning to agile through to agile leadership.

Post a question and get quick, insightful interactions or simply browse through the topics for inspiration of new things to try.

And don't forget to shape the community by sharing your own experience and advice - we want to hear from you!

✓ Sharpen your skills, increase your professional value

You get more than just a discussion forum when you join. As a member you get access to the private monthly group Q&A call with Mike Cohn where you can get advice specific to your situation (see below for more details).

You also unlock a vault of valuable learning resources. From interviews with experts (including Roman Pichler, Jeff Patton, and Lynn Winterboer), to the entire archive of Mike's Weekly tips (Exclusive to AMC members).

✓ Be part of an advancing agile community

This is a chance to join some of the sharpest minds in the agile community. AMC members are passionate and embrace a continual learning mindset. It's not just a place to find support and new ideas, it's also a way for you to feel connected to like-minded people.

The AMC is YOUR community.
