National Public Gardens Day

May 7, 2021 is National Public Gardens Day®

Rain Bird is proud to take a very active role in supporting the National Public Gardens Day initiative. This annual occasion is the perfect day to explore the beautiful flora of your local community. Botanical gardens and arboretums near you are often hidden gems of their community. Take in the scenery, learn about the role that public gardens play in your life, get landscaping ideas for your yard and literally stop and smell the roses.
