Our Mission

OUR MISSION

Project Makeover: The Story

We're on a mission to help schools spark wonder, joy, and dreams.

Project Makeover at the University of Florida is a nonprofit that works year-round to create imaginative school spaces for communities. And our mission was built on a dream.

It's the idea that -- when young learners walk through hallways and see the faces of some of the world's greatest leaders, or learn and play in an outdoor classroom, or explore the elements of music on their way to lunch -- they might dream a little bigger.

Over the past 12 years, this dream has been poured into learning environments in elementary schools. We've dreamt of spaces for students to grow and develop, and we've created them, too.

We'd love to keep you posted about all the good happenings going on in Project Makeover.
