More info about the Stan's Van

- Booking the truck for a prepaid, catering-style event requires payment of a nonrefundable booking fee in addition to the cost of the donuts. Fees vary based on distance; most city rentals run about $400, while rentals in the near suburbs typically are around $500.
- Standard rentals are usually for about 3-4 hours. Longer engagements may incur a higher booking fee.
- Donut pricing is the same aboard the Stan's Van as it is on our Takeout Menu. Any leftover donuts from a prepaid rental are yours to keep, which we'll happily pack up for you at the end of the rental.
- Booking the truck for an event in which we show up to sell donuts to your guests requires no upfront cost, but we do require signature to a Guaranteed Minimum Agreement in order to ensure we can cover the costs of keeping the Van rollin' down the road. How this works is as follows: at the end of the rental period, we run a report of our net sales. If they meet or exceed a predetermined amount, there's no additional cost, we high-five and go our separate ways. If they don't, the sponsoring organization makes up the difference, _then_ we high five and go our separate ways. The minimum amount varies based on the event, but for most rentals it's around $5-600.
- We have no donut-making or coffee-brewing equipment on board the Stan's Van, so everything we bring is prepared ahead of time at our West Loop, Chicago bakery. This unfortunately means we're physically limited as to the amount of hot drip coffee we can serve aboard the truck.
