When you need a person not a siren

If smoke, fire, carbon monoxide, or intruders threaten your home, monitored security neutralizes the danger faster. We staff six monitoring centers with professional agents who are trained to be the lifeline you need whenever you happen to need it.

Faster response. Fewer false alarms

Cove monitoring applies a three-factor communication strategy called Triple-Touch Alarm Response to contact you in emergencies.

LiveAssist

Step one, LiveAssist, is a dedicated two-way communication channel between you and Cove built into your alarm panel. Whenever your alarm goes off, day or night, we'll speak to you directly through the panel.

InstaText

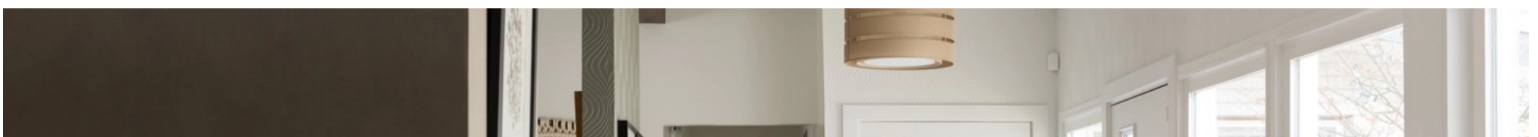

Simultaneously, we'll send a text-message update to the number we have on record. You can respond—Dismiss alarm or Dispatch—directly to the message and solve the problem on the spot.

Direct Phone Call

The last step is a good-old-fashioned phone call. If we don't reach you, we'll contact emergency services on our own.

Risk-free trial

Get 60 days to find out how good it feels to have your home covered by Cove. If you don't love it, send it back for a full refund.
