

WE ARE OVERWATCH

The Culture and Who We Are

---

ABOUT US

Our company's primary mission is to help our customers create a world that unleashes emerging technologies that will improve the lives of everyone! As strategic consultant and owners' representatives, we are trusted advisers acting on your behalf and serving your best interests to manage your Mission Critical project.

The data center development industry isn't lacking in genius and intelligence; our industry is lacking in leadership and the courage to revolutionize the current systems. OVERWATCH understands exactly what it takes to deploy your mission. Generating mutually beneficial partnerships throughout the veteran community to leverage this immense resource of talent, will enable us to utilize the best and brightest from the military matrix in the mission critical vertical. We believe that our fellow veterans bring the unequaled discipline and qualified integrity to the forge of our industry, the same as they conveyed for our country while serving in uniform.

With the onset of today's technology including Artificial Intelligence, Augmented Reality, and Virtual Reality, data demand is endlessly increasing. It is paramount that leaders combine expertise and integrity to guide this industry forward and seek out professionals who understand the OVERWATCH culture. Our team of seasoned professionals uphold the standards of excellence in all we do. Parachuting in to your project, we deliver comprehensive leadership in all capacities required, we execute with agility in an ever advancing industry, and we have the sheer grit required to ensure the long term success of our clients. We are the people Steve Jobs describes as, "...the round pegs in square holes...the ones who see things differently." We are out to change the way it has been done and push this industry forward.

OUR CULTURE

Socially engineered and deliberately designed towards producing the highest level of trust, collaboration and evolution.

OUR ADVANTAGE

Is our agility and flexibility which allows us to react faster to the unpredictable forces of business such as emerging technologies, new competitors entering the market, shifts in the industry and other unplanned world events that fall beyond our control.

OUR VALUE

Is measured everyday by our continued desire to contribute to our customers success in ways that ensure their future success long after we leave or finish the project.

As the Managing Partner it is my mission to build an organization that can survive long after I leave by creating a culture that encourages safety and personal growth. – Kirk Offel

How Can We Help?

Whether you are an organization in need of representation or consultation, or seeking to be a part of the OVERWATCH Team, we want to hear from you.

We are here when the mission is critical.

Send Us a Message

First Name	Last Name
Email Address	Phone Number
Message

SEND MESSAGE

OVERWATCH

About Why What Join Us News Contact

©2020 OVERWATCH Mission Critical | All Rights Reserved | Site Design by Wired Outreach