

CLEAR TOUCH INTEGRATED SOFTWARE

Command

Unparalleled Access, Control, and Digital Stream Management

Clear Touch Command™ is a reliable, cloud-based software solution that gives IT departments and school administrators the ability to communicate through every panel on their network, remotely troubleshoot their panels, monitor device usage statistics, set power savings modes, and stream content without additional hardware.

Command's integrated communication system makes it easy to send announcements and emergency notifications to individual panels or all the panels in your school or district. Simply log in, type or select your message, and hit "send." Instantly, all powered-on screens — regardless of the software or mode they are currently using — will display the message.

When it comes to addressing problems or challenges with individual panels, Command's remote troubleshooting feature allows administrators to improve their response time, maximize IT resources, and minimize classroom disruptions.

Command offers substantial cost-saving opportunities as well. IT admins can monitor overall energy usage and maximize each panel's lifespan by scheduling specific on and off times for every panel in the school or district.

Finally, Command acts as a digital decoder, saving $300 per classroom by allowing teachers to stream approved channels directly onto the panel without expensive third-party hardware. For additional convenience, Command also lets teachers store school approved channels in their panel's menu and access them with just the touch of a button.

Simply put, Command puts the control of your devices into your hands and empowers you to maximize your technology investment.
