

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Stress comes in many forms and can trigger the body's natural stress response. The body's central stress response system is known as the hypothalamic-pituitary-adrenal (HPA) axis. The presence of stress triggers the HPA axis and this leads to cortisol release from the adrenal glands. If prolonged, this natural response to internal (e.g., inflammation, hypoxia, etc.) and external (e.g., anxiety, fear, etc.) stress can result in fatigue, burnout, depression, and decreased stress tolerance. To support a healthy HPA axis function, we developed AdrenalCORE.

Our signature adrenal support supplement was formulated to facilitate a healthy HPA axis by promoting the body's resistance to fatigue and maintaining already-healthy cortisol levels. Our adrenal supplements can help reduce stress, promote healthy energy levels, and help with overall mental performance without the use of artificial ingredients or harmful chemicals.

Suggested Use: As a dietary supplement, take two (2) veggie capsules daily with 8-12 fl oz of water, preferably with a meal.

I started taking AdrenalCORE after being advised that my adrenal health was at risk. I was having midday crashes and anxiety and testing showed my cortisol and testosterone was all out of whack. Since starting this I've felt my energy improve and overall feel much better. Product is great so far and I trust Revive over many other supplement companies out there!

Pushing my body to it's limits show after show I've come to realize how important my adrenal health is. I have supplemented with Adrenal Core the past three shows I've done and it is made a big difference in keeping me fresh and healthy with consistent energy levels!!

I just ordered this and was excited to use it especially since I have been using Calm for a month now. I take two AdrenalCORE with 3 Calm for a normal day and let me tell you... you feel balanced and calm. Calm helps manage the cortisol levels in you to maintain your alert system and allow you to control anxiety. AdrenalCORE further helps in this aspect. I took both and felt like I was dreaming while awake. Definitely recommend.

I didn't know there was such a product that not only keeps my stress levels low but keeps me in a great mood all day! As a high school teacher navigating through the new norms of life, I can't imagine what it must be like to teach without it. Definitely an essential to my daily supplements.

I've been taking adrenalCORE for a little over a month and it's part of my morning ritual stack! The energy that it has provided for me is limitless! I wake up at 3:30am Ro deal with clients and I don't have to take over 3-400mg of caffeine just to buzz me up and be alert! Best energy giving product I've been taking

This past year, I competed in 3 shows. The first of which I did with no supplements whatsoever. Coming into the final month of prep I was a hot mess. Mood all over the place, energy levels crashing and #prepbrain like you couldn't believe. Fast forward to my next prep, I started using adrenalCORE and the difference was unbelievable. Felt way more energized, way less emotional and was able to crush my workouts and cardio a lot more efficiently. This is a prep staple for me. Absolute life changer.
