FAQs

Do I need to have a bank account to apply?

Yes, in order to qualify you must provide valid bank information. Pre-paid cards are also accepted, as long as you have the account and routing number information (For example: CashApp, Venmo, Green Dot, etc.).

Is Flexible Rent a loan or rent guarantee?

It all begins with an idea. Maybe you want to launch a business. Maybe you want to turn a hobby into something more. Or maybe you have a creative project to share with the world. Whatever it is, the way you tell your story online can make all the difference.

What About Late Fees Under My Lease?

While you are enrolled in Flexible Rent, your property manager will defer your late fees. Simply keep paying according to your custom Flexible Rent schedule, and you will not pay any late fees.

How Do I Qualify For Flexible Rent?

Flexible Rent is not a loan and there is no credit requirement to apply, but your landlord must be signed up with Till in order to enroll. You must not be currently under eviction or still owe a past month's rent. You must also have a bank account or prepaid card.

My income is sporadic, in variable amounts and usually, in cash. Can I still qualify?

Yes, you just need some form of income that allows you to pay your rent in full by the end of the month it's due. Multiple forms of cash inflow are accepted (paycheck, unemployment, social security, retirement, child support, etc.).

Why should I use Till over direct deposit?

Flexible Rent is a better way to pay rent without penalties from your landlord. Instead of paying rent all at once, you can split it up over your pay cycle to stabilize and improve your cash flow.
