

TRICYCLE PRESENTS BUDDHAFEST

WATCH ONLINE
JUNE 21 - AUGUST 15

BuddhaFest 2021

Join Robert Thurman, Lama Tsultrim Allione, Sharon Salzberg, and other beloved teachers for an annual online festival, starting June 21.

<https://www.buddhafestonline.com/a/27687/xTW7Fbhe>

How to Choose Joy

By Amanda Gilbert

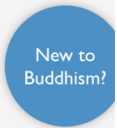

How to Read the Sutras (and Enjoy Yourself)

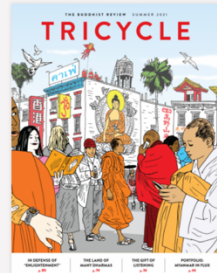

By Kaia Fischer

The Business of Buddhist Temples

Current Issue

SUMMER 2021 | VOLUME 30, NUMBER 4

In Tricycle's latest issue, teachers, artists, and writers explore the evolution of Buddhist social engagement and the challenges practitioners still face. Pamela Ayo Yetunde and Cheryl A. Giles—the editors of the anthology Black and Buddhist—discuss what the dharma and the experience of Black people in America can teach us about the nature of suffering and freedom; scholar Donald S. Lopez writes about how, for most of its history, Buddhist teachings have had little to offer social activism; the photography of Burmese artist Nge Lay illuminates how Myanmar's past and present collide; and Rev. Dr. Kenneth Tanaka observes that within one US city, we can find a greater diversity of Buddhist traditions living side by side than has ever existed before and asks what that means for the future.

VIEW CONTENTS

SUBSCRIBE TO READ NOW

<https://tricycle.org/magazine/history-of-buddhism-and-activism/>

New to Buddhism?

Online Courses

Timeless teachings. Modern methods.

Dhamma Wheel

Dhamma Wheel is a program of daily contemplation designed to deepen your understanding of Buddhist wisdom and gradually integrate it into your meditation practice and your life.

The Whole Path: Kindness, Meditation, and Wisdom

With Sharon Salzberg

Secular Dharma

With Stephen and Martine Batchelor

Buddhism for Beginners

With John Dunne

New to Buddhism?

VIEW MORE

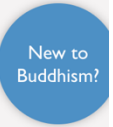

Film Club

Buddhist films and discussion for the Tricycle Community

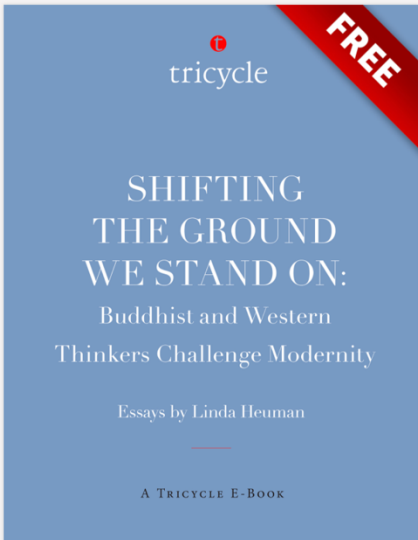

Tenzo

Soto Zen monks Chiken and Ryugyo, two classmates, grapple with the trauma of Japan's post-Fukushima socio-economic crisis while trying to lead their respective temples. Tenzo freely blends fact and fiction in a genre-bending

📖 E-Books

Tricycle wisdom in e-book format

Shifting the Ground We Stand On: Buddhist and

🗣️ Tricycle Talks

Conversations with contemporary Buddhist leaders & thinkers

How a Buddhist Mom and Activist Took on the National Rifle Association

FREE

In the latest episode of Tricycle Talks, Shannon Watts, founder of Moms Demand Action for Gun Sense in America, tells Tricycle's editor-in-chief James Shaheen and cohost Sharon Salzberg about what it's like to work with communities afflicted

New to Buddhism?