Our organization acts as a vessel, a sacred container, built on the foundation of trust, authenticity, vulnerability, curiosity, and integrity. Within this container, we enable our community members to show up as their true authentic selves while supporting them to step into their highest potential. It's from this place, we empower the best-in-class funders, founders, and changemakers, who are dedicated to this cause, to take meaningful action with each other, propelling themselves, their initiatives, and the greater good forward.

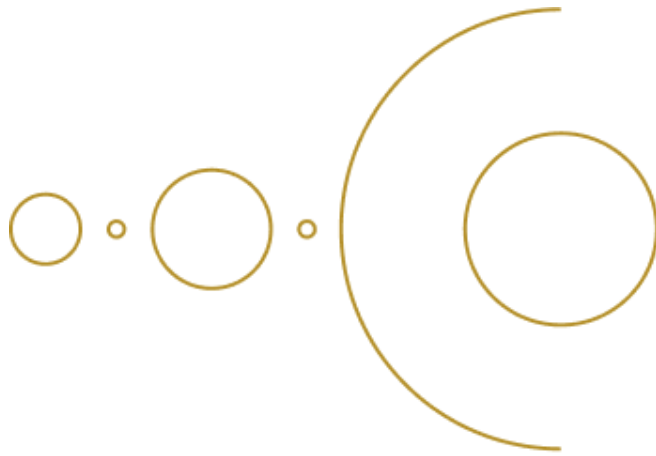

ourselves and all beyond our wildest dreams. By bringing together and uniting the highest caliber individuals and organizations in this space, we're able to play a role in the unfolding of magic and achieve our two missions below.

EVOLVE OURSELVES

With the fundamental understanding that all true lasting change starts within, we look inward and heal ourselves. We recognize that our reality is a reflection of who we are at a vibrational level and we must heal the beliefs, emotions, and trauma that don't serve us in order to truly create the reality we desire.

We support our community members on their personal growth journey into their highest/best self by:

- Intentionally connecting members based on mutual interests, highest excitements, and respective journeys in a private, double opt-in, fashion
- Curating gatherings and experiences designed to foster authentic connection with ourselves and fellow community members
- Providing access to world-class facilitators, healing modalities, techniques, and wisdom keepers
- Creating space for members to co-create the evolution of themselves and each other through working groups and other means

EVOLUTION OF OTHERS

As we heal and elevate ourselves, we look externally to the greater good for society. We create space for the top-tier leaders evolving human consciousness to take meaningful action together. Our community members leverage the wealth of wisdom, networks, and capital of each other, to co-create the greatest possible win-win outcome; measured in both impact and financial returns.

We enable our community members to elevate human consciousness across society by:

- Intentionally connecting members with key stakeholders, based on specific needs, to propel existing initiative forward
- Bridging aligned funders, specific to investment mandate, to top-tier vetted funds, companies, and opportunities
- Leveraging the relationships, wisdom, and resources of the collective dedicated to this field at the highest level
- Co-creating new win-win initiatives alongside fellow members through working groups and other means

WHY CONSCIOUSNESS?

war and depression), we must address the issue at the deepest level, at the root. The root cause of all of these external problems stem from the negative thoughts, emotions, and trauma that live within human beings (what we call wounds) which then affect how we show up in the world for ourselves and those around us. Humans create the outer world in which we live which is why we choose to focus all of our energy on healing human beings.

WHAT PEOPLE ARE SAYING

“What Benjamin Franklin did with Junto, Joe is bringing into the modern day with Lumen. It's a community that's driven, forward-thinking, and open-minded, working together to explore and progress the human condition. I'm proud to be an early member, and impressed with both the people and organization that's organically

“Lumen is a fantastic community of values-aligned Investors, founders, and executives looking to support each other in mutual exploration of ways to practice more Conscious Capitalism – beginning with authentic and vulnerable examination of Self: our lineages, core wounds, traumas, biases,

“Lumen is a community rethinking and reimagining how we build companies, invest and generally function in the world both as individuals and as a collective. The members are not afraid to ask the difficult questions and to examine what role we all have to play in making the world a better, more equitable world.”

“I'm deeply moved by the quality, depth, and wisdom of the group Lumen has curated.”
