EMERGENCY DEPARTMENTS

LOGIXCODING | LOGIXBILLING

LogixHealth is the recognized leader in emergency department revenue cycle services and has unsurpassed ED coding qualifications. Initially founded by emergency physicians for their own practice, LogixHealth is one of the largest ED coding and billing companies in the country, providing complete full service, end-to-end coding and billing for millions of ED visits annually in 40 states. In addition to offering a complete ED revenue cycle management solution, LogixHealth also provides stand-alone expert coding-only services for both the facility and professional components of ED services.

LogixHealth provides emergency physician encounter coding, all related billing services and records maintenance services for a variety of practice types nationwide, including premiere large academic teaching hospitals, large multi-site groups, smaller fee-for-service groups and hospital employed physicians.

For our facility coding clients, we provide a comprehensive daily charge capture service, including the assignment of all relevant codes, including facility E/M levels, associated CPT codes, ICD-10 procedure and diagnosis codes. Additionally, we provide a full review and ongoing maintenance of the facility ED Chargemaster.

ED Compliance and Audits

LogixHealth is nationally recognized for our coding and compliance expertise, and as such provides audits and consultations to groups and companies that are undergoing government and private payer audits. Our audit team has significant experience interfacing with payers, so we're able to directly assist with appeal development. Utilizing this invaluable real world audit experience, we build robust procedures on the front end to minimize our clients' audit exposure.

BUSINESS INTELLIGENCE

Having access to metrics and actionable data is critical to the successful management of today's healthcare delivery. LogixHealth offers a comprehensive suite of integrated Business Intelligence solutions, including meaningful financial and productivity data that provides important insights for our clients about their practices.

LogixHealth provides urgent care clinics and other office-based practices with an expert practice management and revenue cycle management solution that optimizes practice performance and maximizes the speed and amount of collections. Our unique flexibility allows us to work with a variety of practice management and EHR systems for clients that have a preference. LogixHealth's complete solution unifies all processes including insurance contracting support, provider enrollment, patient registration, patient eligibility, clinical chart documentation, expert coding, claim submission, insurance follow-up, and self-pay collections. LogixHealth's solution provides cloud hosting and a secure state-of-the-art data center, which minimizes the practice management hardware and maintenance costs for the practice.

LogixCoding

Expert coders and rules-driven analytics provide our clients with expert urgent care clinics and other office-based coding that optimizes both revenue and compliance. All coding, state and associated ana compliance. All coding data and associated RVUs are uploaded into LogixHealth's secure data warehouse, where we continuously monitor expected coding and documentation patterns and provide direct, meaningful clinician feedback. Our clients are provided both overall and practitioner-specific documentation feedback reports on a number of key metrics, including RVUs, procedure distributions and documentation deficiencies. Additionally, we provide unsurpassed provider documentation feedback and education.

LogixBilling

LogixHealth offers a comprehensive suite of RCM services that lead the industry in optimizing the speed and amount of collections for urgent care clinics and other office-based practices nationwide. Combining our proprietary software with expert staff, we optimize each step in the revenue cycle chain, including provider enrollment, documentation education, coding, reconciliation, billing, claims management, payment variance identification, self-pay collections, patient call center, website for payments, and the delivery of important data insights and analytics. In addition to full outsource RCM services, LogixHealth provides process management consultations and contracting support. We also utilize customized software-enabled self-pay processes to maximize patient satisfaction and collections.

LogixHealth can provide a full-service outsource solution for insurance enrollment, utilizing specialized software and our expert dedicated provider enrollment department that is responsible for enrolling groups, physicians and midlevel providers. Additionally, our proprietary Payment Variance Analytix™ service identifies insurance underpayments compared with contracted insurance reimbursement rates. All identified underpayments are aggressively addressed with payers.

LEADERSHIP | LOGIXHEALTH FLOWER

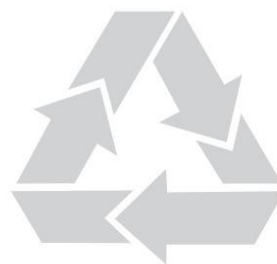

Founded in the 1990s by physicians to service their own practices, LogixHealth provides expert coding and billing services that allow physicians to focus on providing great clinical care. LogixHealth has grown over the years to become the nation's leading provider of unsurpassed software-enabled revenue cycle management services, offering a complete range of solutions, including coding and claims management and the latest business intelligence reporting dashboards for clients in 40 states.

About Us

Since our first day, we have had a clear vision of a better healthcare system, and have continually evolved in order to get there. In addition to providing expert revenue cycle services, we utilize proprietary software to provide valuable financial, clinical, and other data insights that directly improve the quality and efficiency of patient care.

Our vision is executed by leveraging a triangle of unique strengths that we promise to utilize on behalf of our clients — Physician-Inspired Knowledge, Unrivaled Technology and Impeccable Service — that continuously reinforce each other.

PHYSICIAN-INSPIRED KNOWLEDGE

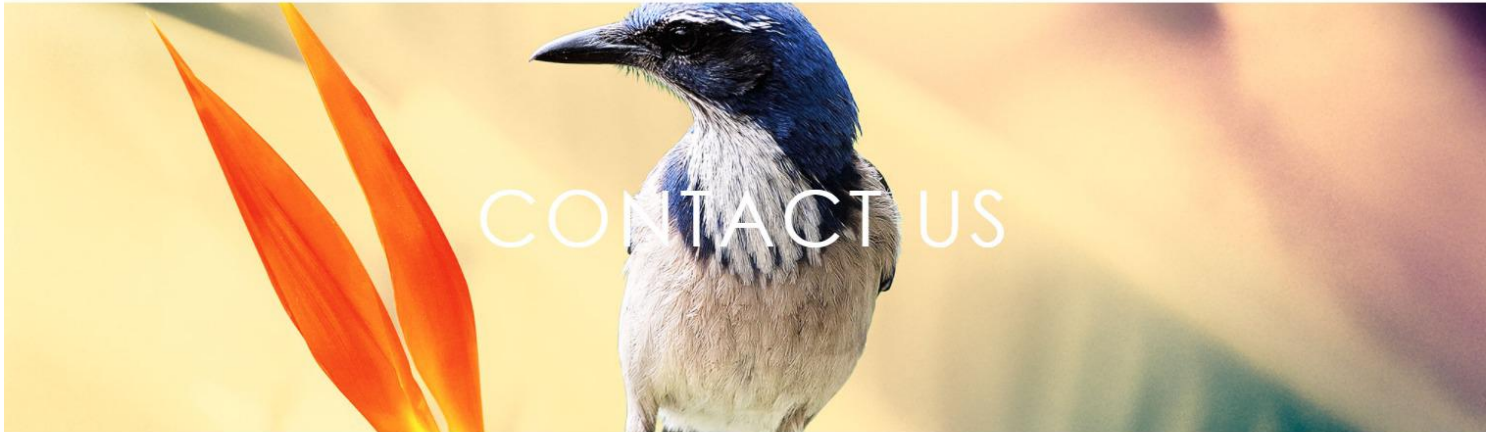

IMPECCABLE SERVICE

UNRIVALED TECHNOLOGY

This triangle of unique strengths deeply influences our company's culture, people and systems at every level. Our triangle of interwoven strengths provides us with the ability to truly make the healthcare system smarter, and enables us to proudly say that, at LogixHealth, we're Making intelligence matter.
