Martin Alley at Stovehouse

More than just a pass-through that connects west parking to the rest of campus, this alley is bordered by high-tech offices and end right behind The Shed. The alley is used for event overflow from The Shed rental events, for get-away-from-the-crowd dining & for popup markets, concerts and more. The alley is named for the Martin family which ran Martin Stamping & Stove in this location for nearly a century. The lighted metal truss-work above your head is a reminder of the old building that was revived (and sometimes removed entirely)
