

Your Legacy

When you think of your legacy, you think about the mark you'll leave on this world, on the people you know, and on the generations to come. No one else will have the same influence as you. Your legacy is like your fingerprint; it's unique to you.

But if you're a follower of Christ, your legacy isn't just your fingerprint on the world; it's also God's fingerprint on you. His touch on you marks the way you live and love and care for the world around you.

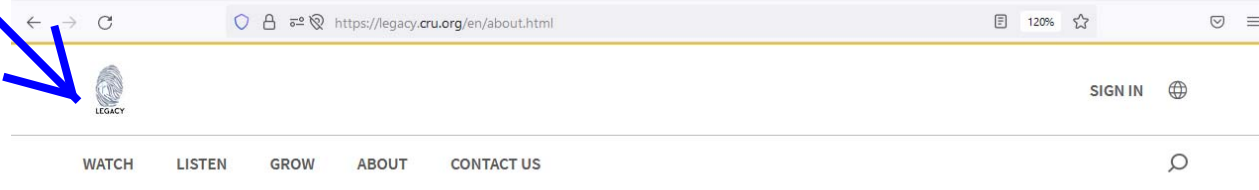

We hope this site will help you grow in your love and knowledge of God so you can build the most significant legacy imaginable.

What to Expect
Your Guides
Our Mission

WHAT TO EXPECT

Think of Legacy as a sort of a digital spiritual roadmap to help guide you in the trials and triumphs of your walk with God. What we're offering are tools to help you navigate life and build your legacy.

Your Legacy

When you think of your legacy, you think about the mark you'll leave on this world, on the people you know, and on the generations to come. No one else will have the same influence as you. Your legacy is like your fingerprint; it's unique to you.

But if you're a follower of Christ, your legacy isn't just your fingerprint on the world; it's also God's fingerprint on you. His touch on you marks the way you live and love and care for the world around you.

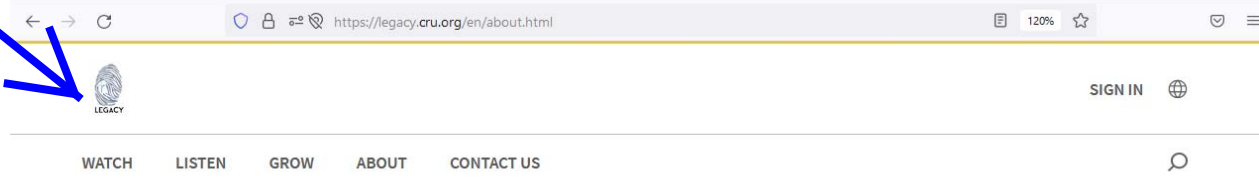

We hope this site will help you grow in your love and knowledge of God so you can build the most significant legacy imaginable.

What to Expect
Your Guides
Our Mission

YOUR GUIDES

We have interviewed almost 200 men and women who have learned the keys to living vibrant, dynamic lives with Christ. Their stories and the lessons they've learned along the way make up the videos, podcasts, and devotionals on this site. Some of the people you'll meet here are now with the Lord. Their stories are now part of their legacy.

Your Legacy

LEGACYTM

When you think of your legacy, you think about the mark you'll leave on this world, on the people you know, and on the generations to come. No one else will have the same influence as you. Your legacy is like your fingerprint; it's unique to you.

But if you're a follower of Christ, your legacy isn't just your fingerprint on the world; it's also God's fingerprint on you. His touch on you marks the way you live and love and care for the world around you.

We hope this site will help you grow in your love and knowledge of God so you can build the most significant legacy imaginable.

What to Expect

Your Guides

Our Mission

OUR MISSION

To inspire Christ-followers toward a deeper faith and introduce them to ways they can serve Him.