Nice design

I find this pattern to be a step up from the average flatware pattern. It's still thin enough to keep its sophistication, but slightly thicker to make it easier to grip. The longer handle of the knife allows it to reach further into a peanut butter or mayonnaise jar. The long, slender bowl of the spoons allows them to reach into a small necked bottle such as the refillable squeeze bottles used for picnic condiments. While I describe the utensils as being slender and thin, they are still sturdy, and well made. I don't see them bending in the dishwasher. They are also longer than my other flatware, but still fit in the silverware drawer.

We thought going with Oneida would make sure we had a quality product. One wash in and the knives are already showing rust. We will be returning them. Exceedingly disappointed with the quality.

Sleek design; built well

First off, I would just like to say that I have Oneida Silverware that I've used for decades. They aren't just known for their practical and durable silverware or every day utensils, but they also make exquisite silver 3-stem candle holders and ornate serving trays. Their products will truly last you a lifetime. This 5 piece silverware set comes with a butter knife, dinner fork, salad fork, soup spoon, and teaspoon sized spoon. It is on the heavier side and has a nice sleek design. It came in the traditional Oneida box which is also great for gift giving. If you want to make a lifetime investment this is definitely the silverware you want. It stands up to everything and comes out still looking beautiful. HIGHLY RECOMMEND!!

Simple yet modern looking. The quality is beyond. The size of each piece is perfect. There's a healthy weight to each piece but not overly heavy. I wish this were an option for a wedding gift when I was getting married. Overall lovely set... You can't go wrong.

Absolutely Love

This is one of my favorite brands of silverware. I decided to try this style out because of the shape of the body of the silverware. I love how heavy it is and I love the body of the silverware. It is easy to hold and is comfortable in the hand. I will be purchasing more with the same style handles.

Nice set

This is a really nice set of silverware. It's not too heavy when you hold it but it does have a little weight to it. It is very durable and well-made. The pieces fit comfortably in your hand. They wash well, too. I like the stylish design. It is the kind of design that would fit anyone's taste. They look elegant without overdoing it.
