Our response: COVID-19

The coronavirus pandemic has generated concern over bills circulating among hundreds of hands on the casino floor, and that is pushing casinos toward cashless technology after years of discussion.

Cashless payments bring casinos more in line with everyday life. Fears over the spread of COVID-19 are leading to broader consumer adoption of mobile-phone payment systems to avoid contact at cash registers.

A cashless casino floor experience means a safer experience for guests. Sightline is committed to helping our industry move toward a cashless system.
