WHAT USERS ARE SAYING ABOUT IVOX

"IVOX IS A HUGE SUCCESS!"

The technology is simple for both the adult and the child/student to use. The app is easy to navigate by simply choosing a book and the app reads aloud to the reader. As a teacher I enjoy that the words are also on the page as the narrator reads aloud. The student can both see and hear how the words are spelled. I like the 3D "pop up" aspect of the illustrations. It keeps the reader more engaged in a story, especially if they have a short attention span. One suggestion is to open up the technology to use the app on a smart-board for entire class discussions.

I thought it was interesting to explore and fun and helps with reading. As a 4th Grader I think it helps improve your reading and helps find interesting books, it is very fun I'm sure the app will be a success.

He thought it was pretty good but the pictures were interactive and that you could move with your finger to the songs you wanted.

This is such a great product! And I love that you can use it on your personal device, instead of having to check out a separate piece of equipment, like with Playaways/Playaway Views, etc.

The graphics are really beautiful. They felt really engaging and colorful. My friend it when he figured out he could zoom in and move around the 3D pages. Child classes were particularly great for him.

She absolutely loved it and wanted more titles. She loved being able to look around the bedroom, and then zoom in on the book. She keeps asking to do it again.

The screenshot shows a digital book interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with a 'Library' label, a progress indicator '0/11', and icons for help, camera, and settings. The main content area features a book cover for 'The Loch Ness Monster' by Robert Knight, with the word 'EPIC' at the bottom. The book is set against a background of wooden planks. A purple text box on the left provides camera controls: 'Left click - pan the camera', 'Right click - rotate the camera', 'Scroll wheel - zoom the camera', and a camera icon followed by '- reset the camera'. A purple bar at the bottom of the book cover area contains the text 'Press the right page turn button to open the book'. At the very bottom, there are logos for 'GET IT ON Google Play', 'Download on the App Store', and 'amazonkindle', along with the 'IVOX' logo.
