What to Expect

Welcome to Willow South Barrington! We are passionate about loving God, loving others, and changing the world—especially within our own city. Each weekend we gather to worship and learn from God's Word, but we believe "church" is much more than a one-hour event. The relationships formed through volunteering and small groups provide the ideal place to truly belong, celebrate the joys of life, weather the storms together, and become who God made you to be. Wherever you find yourself in life or faith, we hope your first step will be checking out Willow South

Pastoral Support

Help starts here

Not sure where to start? Speak with one of Willow's skilled, compassionate response pastors—and take your first step toward finding the help you need.

A conversation with a response pastor can provide you with:

- A wise, confidential sounding board for your situation.
- Coaching to help find a suitable therapist.
- Information about a workshop or class that might benefit you or your circumstance.
- Clarity on what to do next.
- Someone who will pray with you or for you.
- Help in planning a funeral for your loved one.

Not sure what you need? Chances are good that a response pastor can help you figure it out! Call the church and ask to speak with a response pastor.

Groups

We need each other

“Everyone in a group, every group on mission.” To us, that’s more than a catchphrase, it’s a challenge. What would it look like for you to be in connection with people who would engage you spiritually, equip you relationally and empower you towards mission? Let us help connect you!

Join a Group

You can use this tool to help search for a group. We list all our groups online so you can hopefully find a group that works for you! Whether it’s by campus, stage of life, or day of the week, GroupFinder will help list all the groups that are accepting new members.

Still can’t find a group?

We’re sorry! Our hope is to provide as many groups as possible but sometimes many groups as possible but sometimes we're not able to meet every need. Since we often add new leaders to Group Finder, we encourage you to check back or connect with a Groups Pastor below.

REFLECTION

REBUILD

When you're grieving the death of a loved one, a divorce, or a pregnancy loss, where can you turn? REBUILD workshops offer comfort, hope, and practical tools for healing after the death of a loved one; a finalized divorce; miscarriage or stillbirth. Our ten-week core workshop is offered twice a year (winter/spring and fall). REBUILD also hosts topical workshops on helpful grieving at other times during the year.

Cancer Support

Moving from fear to hope

A diagnosis of cancer can trigger an avalanche of questions and feelings:

"I can't believe it."

"I'm scared."

"What's treatment like?"

"Is God punishing me?"

"How will this affect my family?"

"Will I get through this?"

All these questions make sense. Willow Creek's Cancer Support Community wants to come alongside you during your cancer journey. Whether you are directly or indirectly affected by a cancer diagnosis, you'll find a safe place where individuals—and their families—share with one another, support one another, and learn together from their experiences.

Cancer Support gatherings

Cancer Support helps adults cope with the emotional, spiritual, relational, and physical challenges that may accompany a cancer diagnosis. Through large-group teaching, a devotional time, and small-group discussion, participants can experience joy, hope, and healing in this caring, Christ-centered community.

For this first term, the community will meet from 10 – 11:45 a.m. on the following Saturdays:

- February 19, 2022 (on Zoom)
- March 19, 2022 (on Zoom)
- April 9, 2022 (In person, Room B206)

Questions?

To attend this meeting or for more information about the Cancer Support Community, please contact Dee Peart at dpeart@wcservingvolunteer.org.

You're not alone.

Sometimes life is just hard. Storms come, on winds of job loss, accident, illness, financial stress, or a collision of multiple fronts. Some are predictable; others have no warning at all. But when the storms hit, we are here to help.
