BCS Content Integration

At BCS, we believe that simplicity is the key to user acceptance of content management systems by workers and field personnel that are busy executing the day-to-day transactions.

Adding complexity through new systems and compliance procedures does not make the process more accurate.

However, experience has shown us that making systems smarter and able to streamline the process more intuitive, accurate and efficient yielding improved customer engagement and a competitive advantage.

Our technology can integrate with most ERP systems, legacy and web applications and major content management systems including SharePoint.

What problems are you trying to solve?

- My users have trouble locating or accurately adding important content.
- My organization has too many duplicate procedures.
- My business applications don't talk to my content management systems.
- I want to streamline and eliminate paper from my business process.

We would like to invite you to learn more about our unique approach and how we provide transformational technology that makes content management "work the way people work".
