

Employment and Vocational Supports

QMA strives to provide meaningful training, and vocational services for the people we support.

Through person driven planning and the development of an extensive vocational assessment program, QMA enables individuals to take an active role in designing their future employment. The vocational assessment of a person's work skills, habits, interests, and goals through situational evaluations empowers both the individual and their team to make informed training and career decisions.

Our goal is to break down barriers to employment and help individuals realize their potential. QMA's follow up, ongoing assessments and communication with a person's entire support system ensures that people are successful in the jobs they choose.
