Our Mission

It's time for a phone monitoring app that

Technology has an important role to play in keeping your loved ones safe. So why are so many parental control apps so outdated? What was good 10 years ago just doesn't cut it today. That's why we created eyeZy.

As parents, we grew tired of monitoring apps that overpromised and underdelivered. We wanted a solution that wasn't just a bunch of mediocre tools slapped together. We wanted something that would give us access to their digital world and arm us with the information we need to keep them safe.
