WHAT DOSAGE CBD OIL FOR MY DOG?

When you're looking to buy high-quality CBD oil for dogs, you may notice that there are many different sizing and dosage options, plus things like broad and full spectrum CBD. We'll get to the broad vs. full spectrum CBD later, but for now let's talk dosing. It might seem confusing at first, but we can teach you how much pet CBD oil to give your dog!

Keep in mind that there are no official recommendations for CBD products by the FDA, so if your pet is new to CBD oil for dogs, start with lower dosages at first and then gradually increase it until your pet feels comfortable.

CALCULATING DOSAGE

Whether you're using broad or full spectrum CBD products, the general rule of thumb is to use 0.25mg of CBD per pound of bodyweight for a standard dose. For example, a dog that weighs 80 pounds can start with 20mg of dog CBD oil.

In this case, a 600mg bottle of dog CBD oil for dogs may give you just enough for 30 doses.

On the other hand, small dogs weighing 20 pounds may only need 5 mg of CBD oil for dogs per dose.

In this case, a 150mg bottle of dog CBD oil for dogs will give you just enough for 30 doses. You can buy this bottle for medium dogs.

For a stronger dose, double the potency to about 0.5mg CBD per pound of body weight. The same 80-pound dog will now need about 40mg of dog CBD oil for dogs as an extra-strength dose.

In this case, that 600mg bottle will last about 15 doses, which will last about two weeks with daily doses. We recommend this strength for larger dogs.

Of course, you may want to lower the dose to even less than the standard dosage recommendation if your pet is new to the best CBD oil for dogs!

Depending on the CBD products you have (it's easiest with things like oil and treats), you can start with half the standard dosage and then work your way up until you notice increased relaxation or calm in your pet.

As always, consult a vet for more specific advice regarding CBD products. They will be able to help examine your pet and advise on how even the best CBD oil for dogs will affect them.

HOLISTAPET CBD TINCTURE PROCESS

WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN CBD TINCTURE FOR DOGS

Nowadays, hundreds, if not thousands, of brands are selling CBD products for dogs.

But how many of these companies do you actually trust? Where you buy CBD oil for your pet can greatly determine the effectiveness and quality of the product!

Ingredients

Finding products with organic, all-natural ingredients is extremely important when it comes to your pets! You don't want to give them any products that use artificial or synthetic ingredients that can damage your pet's health.

HolistaPet is committed to only using natural, high-quality ingredients in ALL of our products because your pet's well-being is our priority!

Our CBD oil for dogs is 100% organic with only two main ingredients – CBD extract and hempseed oil.

HOW IS OUR CBD OIL MADE?

It's simple – we make our pet CBD oil products by separating the CBD extract from the hemp plant and combining it with a carrier oil!

First, to separate the CBD from the hemp plant, it must go through a process known as extraction. There are several ways you can extract CBD: ethanol, solvent, or CO2. The CO2 extraction method is by far the cleanest method because it doesn't leave behind any solvent residue or byproducts that may be damaging to your pet's health.

CO2 extraction from the hemp plant is more expensive and can take longer to complete the extraction, but HolistaPet takes every measure to make sure your pet receives the highest quality product possible.

Once we have the CBD extract, we combine it with hempseed oil. Hempseed oil is an excellent choice for a carrier oil as it is exceptionally rich in many different nutrients, including omega fatty acids, vitamins, minerals, and proteins!

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What's the difference between broad spectrum and full spectrum CBD oil for dogs? ▲

There are three main types of pet CBD hemp oil that you'll find – full spectrum CBD oil, broad spectrum, and isolate. So what's the difference between the three? Let's find out!

Full Spectrum CBD

When you first extract CBD from hemp, you get all of the compounds found in the plant (cannabinoids, terpenes, flavonoids). Having all of the 100+ cannabinoids present is when you get "full spectrum CBD oil"

The main benefit from full spectrum CBD oil is the entourage effect – a synergy between all the cannabinoids to produce an enhanced benefit than if CBD was by itself.

This includes THC, a major cannabinoid that makes full spectrum CBD oil the most effective type. Despite containing THC, these amounts in full spectrum CBD products do not exceed 0.3% to stay within the legal limit according to the 2018 Farm Bill.

These small concentrations are nowhere near enough to get any animals high, so you have nothing to worry about with full spectrum CBD oil!

Broad Spectrum CBD

Broad spectrum CBD oil is similar to full spectrum CBD oil with one major difference — there is no THC present whatsoever! Broad spectrum is perfect for those wanting to avoid THC for any reason.

Although the entourage effect may not be as strong in broad spectrum as in full spectrum, it is still extremely effective in broad spectrum CBD oil because the rest of the cannabinoids, terpenes, and flavonoids are still there!

HolistaPet CBD oil for dogs uses broad spectrum CBD oil to ensure a high-quality product while avoiding THC completely so you won't have anything to worry about.

The addition of hempseed oil makes our broad spectrum hemp oil tinctures extremely beneficial for your pet!

My 4 year old Siberian Husky, Nico, has severe anxiety with fireworks. I've tried thundershirts, calming sprays, calming chews, and even had a prescribed medication from the vet. Nothing worked. This past Saturday I was so shocked to find him just laying under the table after we had fireworks go off for a town festival! I will definitely be buying more for him when we run out!

HolistaPet CBD oil has definitely helped my rescued greyhound Tora. She had severe anxiety and separation anxiety when I first got her. And I've noticed that the CBD oil definitely helps her!
