You'll find Hypertherm Associates' products and people wherever there's serious cutting and shaping to be done. We design and build all of our Hypertherm plasma and OMAX waterjet products in the U.S.A., and provide expert sales and service in more than 65 countries.

Route to market

Hypertherm Associates products are sold in a number of ways. Hypertherm plasma products are sold through original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) and authorized distribution network and select system integrators. OMAX waterjet products are sold direct in North America and through a distribution network in all others parts of the world. Around the world, Hypertherm Associates products are used in the construction and repair of ships, skyscrapers, trains, trucks, heavy equipment, pipelines mines, tunnels, bridges, and even rollercoasters.
