This Would Be Like...

Born to Be Wild

If you followed monkey sounds into a cloud forest, pushing past lush ferns to reveal a steamy, dreamy freshwater hot spring fed by a waterfall... after you slip in for a soak with the sun peeking through the palm fronds, a kind baby elephant offers you a detoxifying green juice... when you emerge from the steamy, dreamy soak, you find your skin is softer than the day you were born and you have a new baby elephant

Cold-Process Soap

Jukebox soaps are made using the cold-process saponification method, where fats and natural oils combine with lye to make soap (for cleansing) and glycerin (a natural humectant aka moisturizing agent). Your skin will thank you!

I Am Simply Wild About This Scent

I AM SO EXCITED that Jukebox is now selling this scent. I got to try a tester bar and once I ran out I have been waiting for it to come back. I love the green earthy scent so much, it really fits my typical scent profile but has a uniqueness to it at the same time. And the jungle vibe... say no more.
