FAQ

What does it feel like?

BRÉZ offers an experience unlike any other. You'll first feel a quick, energizing euphoric elevation followed by a sense of calm clarity. In essence - the drinking experience you've always wanted.

What does microdosed mean?

We use just the right amount in each serving (2.5MG THC & 5MG CBD) to help you feel elevated, euphoric, clear, and calm without any overwhelm, worries, or stress. This also means you have full control over how many you decide to consume, creating your perfect adaptogenic cannabis experience.

Will I get anxious or paranoid?

Highly unlikely - due to our unique addition of Lion's Mane extract, our microdosed approach to THC, and our rapid-absorption micronization process we've created what we see as the solution to the bad edible trip.

Exceeded Expectations

I've been on the brink of quitting alcohol altogether because of the horrible hangovers, sore stomach and headaches. However, I really enjoy the social experience of having a drink with new and old friends. After trying this drink, I'll likely take it 9 times out of 10 over any alcoholic drink. It tastes delicious like a cocktail and the feeling is much much better. You feel social but in way more control and less of a numbness but more relaxed physically. Read More

Brez Weaves A Tapestry Of Euphoria And Tranquility In A Can

Each sip quickly lifts you into a vibrant world, blending laughter, camaraderie, and is a delightful alternative to beer or cocktails. A snappy lemon flavor that's not overly sweet and drinkable straight out of the can or easily mixed into a mocktail.

Floaty And Fun

As someone who isn't a heavy cannabis user, this was a ton of fun! It got me "high" but it was more of a head high and it put me in a great mood! It wasn't the sort of baked you'd see in a Harold & Kumar movie, It allowed me to be present while enjoying the high. Absolutely cannot wait to get more and share with friends!

Exactly What I've Been Waiting For!

I would describe this as motivation in a can. The flavor is incredible, hands down the best tasting adaptogenic tonic. The flavor is citrusy and refreshing.

Before my first can, I was feeling sluggish, afterwards, I completed an entire project and still had the energy to ideate a new one. Every creative needs these in their cooler.
