

THE DECORATORS CLUB LECTURE SERIES

The biennial Jacqueline Beymer Lecture Series was established in 1991 and benefits interior design education. The series is named in memory of Decorators Club member Jacqueline Beymer who was instrumental in its founding.

The series' purpose is to broaden the education of club members, those in the design industry, and the general public, on topics pertaining to the decorative arts. Proceeds from these series raise funds for The Decorators Club Education Fund, which provides monetary grants to students who are interested in pursuing interior design education at the six New York City design colleges.

STAY TUNED FOR THE 2023 SCHEDULE.
