El Prado Golf Course (Butterfield Stage)
Chino, CA
Reviewed by:  carl17, Anaheim

Got out Monday 10:30 perfect weather after Sunday rain. Course soggy but playable mostly good fairway coverage with untrimmed rough/weeds. Puddles and mud along cart paths nothing bothersome though. Greens typical good condition medium speed with surprisingly few unrepaired pitch marks. Wetness made course play long so moved we moved up to red tees. Noticed a couple greenside b... » More

Tijeras Creek Golf Club
Rancho Santa Margarita, CA
Reviewed by:  cubbielblue, Laguna Beach

Course is in incredible condition. It's Ireland green. Boxes are good, fairways are great, rough is juicy and bunkers are nice with new sand. Great tale of two nines but like always POP is the downer here. Played a 5:20 round last week, couple weeks before that 4:50. The marshalls have this bogus time sheet that doesn't get anyone to play faster. Sad part is the staff seems to ... » More

Arroyo Trabuco Golf Club
Mission Viejo, CA
Reviewed by:  cubbielblue, Laguna Beach

Arroyo used to be the best experience and layout in OC. For the past couple years they have struggled with many greens no matter what time of year. Hired a new super to try and revive them but nothing seems to work. They punch and topdress greens almost every three weeks! Played it a dozen times the past six months and it's the worst putting experience compared to any other tra... » More
